Notes for Cyprian Bulloch, Jr.:

"Warm Springs: Home of a Hatchery...and a President. Another old-timer in the Southeast, Warm Springs NFH came into existence as a result of 1898 legislation authorizing the establishment of a "fish cultural station" in Meriwether County, Georgia. This small community of Warm Springs, 65 miles southwest of Atlanta, was called Bullochville before its incorporation in 1924.

In 1899, brothers Cyprian and Benjamine Bulloch and their cousin Sarah J. Bussey, owners of a 1,500 acre plantation in Meriwether County, donated 16 acres of land to the Fish Commission upon which to construct a fish hatchery. This acreage included three natural springs to supply water for hatchery operations. From these springs, water flowed out of the ground at a constant temperature of 62.6 degrees Farenheit."

BULLOCH, Mrs. Isabel Frances, wife of Mr. B. F. Bulloch, died at her home at ville Monday morning, Feb. 25, 1895; the former Miss Revill was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Revill and was born Feb. 8, 1848(not positive of year, it is very hard to read); she was married to Mr. Bulloch in November 1874; she was buried

Tuesday morning at Bullochville; Vol. 23, No. 13, March 1, 1895(Meriwether County Vindicator)

The first newspaper to be published in the county was the Meriwether County Vindicator, which began publication December 20, 1872. Mr. William T. Revill was the founder and publisher. He was succeeded by his son, Judge Henry H. Revill, and ownership remained in the Revill family until 1942. The newspaper office was located on the northeast corner of the lot facing the Revill home. After the cyclone in 1893, the office was moved to another location on the same lot, the present site of the Meriwether County Health Department. This came to be known as the Vindicator lot. The Vindicator was hand set for many years and the heavy press was operated by hand. In 1885 the name of the newspaper was changed to the Meriwether Vindicator. The format was also changed about this time and machinery installed to operate the paper. A unique feature of the Vindicator was the weekly editorial written by Judge Revill on topics of local, state, and national interest. Notes for Benjamin Vines Bulloch:
[dhh.FTW]

He moved to Arkansas about 1918-19.

Received from grand daughter Ann Fairbanks via e-mail:

" My grandfather and grandmother met at a picnic (I'll ask which river it was on) on July 4th 1905 and married on 12/24/05. Papa was born in Merriweather County, I believe and so was Gram, Mayme Belle Hasty. I suppose he farmed like most of his family but he did hold an elected office as Sheriff for a year and ...after that he got a job on the Missouri Pacific RR in Oklahoma. I think one of his brothers may have already made the move to Oklahoma or Arkansas. As soon as he was settled, he sent for the family. They had five children by then; eventually had eight. One of Papa's brothers took Gram and the children by wagon to (I think Aunt Helen said) Tennessee to take the train to Oklahoma. They later settled in Van Buren, Arkansas where he continued to work for the RR and where I was born (well, across the river in Ft. Smith...the closest hospital). My father, Daniel Hasty, was also a RR man all his life; first on the Missouri Pacific and then the Southern Pacific in 1949 until he retired in the 60's. We came out on a vacation to visit Mother's relatives who had moved to the Napa Valley during the war and worked at Mare Island Shipyard during WWII. Daddy looked up an old buddy from the MPacific and before we were to go back to Arkansas, he had been offered a job. There were so many lay-offs after the war was over that they never knew from week to week if they'd have steady income. California was booming and Daddy was told that he'd never lack for work or opportunity out here so he sent Mother, my brother Donald Wayne and me back on the train to sell our house and ship out our furniture and belongings. Daddy certainly did have opportunities and we moved every time he was promoted...usually between the San Joaquin Valley and the Bay Area. I hated it and cried, everytime I thought of it, for years wanting to go back to Gram and Papa in Arkansas. We did go back yearly for a 2 week vacation though and when he retired, he and Mother moved back to Alma, Arkansas outside Van Buren. The property they bought had been owned by mother's sister. Gram and Papa had also lived on that place before Van Buren. I loved my southern childhood and get very nostalgic about it even now...longing, I suppose, for gentler, sweeter times. Aunt Ann died in Waycross last December of uterine cancer and Aunt Helen is the last one of Daddy's family. She is 87 but still sharp although she is now in assisted living (arthritis and osteoporosis) at the Baptist Village in Waycross. There's a picture of the two of them we took on our trip back there in March 2001 and one of my grandfather, Benjamin Vines on Stan's family album. I try to keep her supplied with her's and Aunt Ann's favorite California treat, See's Candy, and call her as often as I can. Life seems so hectic these days. Let me know what questions she might answer for you and I'll ask again during my next phone call. It'd be good to get her memories down about the family while she's still with us."
